

When using Windense with a scanner, the Epson scanner driver automatically opens to enable the scanning of the negative or positive control strip. If necessary, simply press the Preview button to display film on the scanner, select the target area and press Scan to scan the strip. Windense does the rest.