

The clothesline (trend) plot shows behavior as a function of time. This plot is also used for process problem diagnosis. You can view individual results by double-clicking on the date/time on the x-axis or at references by double-clicking on the batch number. It's a very useful display.